Dear Munificent Subscriber,

Happy New Year from the staff of Whole Earth Review!

One of your benefits as a WER Supporting Subscriber of the Munificent variety is two copies of each of our new books and products. The two items which came out new in the second half of 1992 were our first book (of what we hope will be an on-going series) with Ten Speed Press: Helping Nature Heal. Enclosed you will find your two copies of this book. (Our apologies for not getting them to you sooner. We have just re-vamped our system for keeping track of Supporting Subscriptions and should be timely in our future mailings to you.)

As an updated and supplemented version of a special issue of WER on environmental restoration, this book was a bit of an experiment for us. So far, the results are encouraging: some good reviews and steady sales.

Ten Speed Press is a a Berkeley publisher of useful non-fiction books of a wide variety and best known for the perennial best-seller What Color is Your Parachute?). One reason we published this book with them is that they have a commitment to keeping good books in print -- and they don't stop promoting a book if it isn't on the NY Times best-seller list after four weeks, something New York publishers have been known to do.. We are now discussing additional projects with them. If you stick with us as a Munificent, you'll get two copies of each of those as well.

Our other new product is a new Whole Earth Review t-shirt. It's in dark blue on a heavy duty cotton shirt with a winged earth on the front and "Access to Tools" on the back. We have them in large and extra-large.

To get your 2 shirts: write "2 Large," "2 X-Large" or "1 Large/1 X-Large" on the bottom of the enclosed label, fill in your address and send it back to us in the enclosed post-paid envelope (if you are mailing from within the US). We'll send your shirts out to you right away.

Thanks again for your support. We hope you enjoy the books and the shirts. And by all means let us know what you think of them.

For the Whole Earth Staff,

Keith Jordan
